ATLANTA, Georgia — Transport Topics has named 3PD a “Top 50 Logistics Company” for 2007.

It is 3PD's first appearance on the annual ranking, which is compiled based on net North American revenues for a calendar year; 3PD ranked 47th on the list based on 2006 revenues of $186 million. In addition, it is 3PD's second honor from a major national publication this year. In July, the company was named to Inbound Logistics' Top 100 3PLs list.

“As a former in-house logistics professional, I have always watched Transport Topics' Top 50 list with great interest, because it reflects the industry's biggest and best outsourcing options,” said 3PD President and CEO Karl Meyer. “3PD is proud to have made the list after just six years in business. And based on our current revenue growth, we look forward to being ranked even higher in 2008.”

Transport Topics is one of the trucking industry's oldest and most widely read trade publications. Published weekly, it reaches more than 30,000 professionals involved in transportation operations, planning, purchasing and maintenance. It has been issuing a Top 50 list since 2002.
